DETAILED ACTION

This office action is in response to the amendment of November 28, 2005. In making the below rejections the examiner has considered and addressed each of the applicant's arguments.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Wortman et al as set forth in the previous office action (08/24/2005).

Claims 1, 2, 5 and 7-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Higgs as set forth in the previous office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Higgs in view of Infante as set forth in the previous office action.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed November 28, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The examiner notes that at page 4 line 10 of the "Rejections over Higgs" section the applicant referred to "Wortman et al" but it seems clear the Higgs reference was to be referred to.

The applicant argues against each of Wortman and Higgs because, in the applicant's opinion, they do not disclose an inflatable object. The examiner disagrees.

The applicant's arguments are based on the fact that the Wortman et al mattress (30) and the Higgs mattress 3 are multi-component elements. The applicant notes that in Wortman it is the air cells 44 and 46 which are inflatable and in Higgs it is the air chambers 28 formed by the foam sheets which are inflatable. With regards to Wortman et al the applicant argues that because the air cells are the inflatable element then the mattress 30 itself is not inflatable. The examiner disagrees because the air mattress includes as one of its elements the air cells. The applicant admits this in his own arguments. Because part of the mattress (the air cells) are inflatable then the mattress is an inflatable object. With regards to Higgs the applicant's argument that the sheet of foam material is not an inflatable body is not convincing. In Higgs it is the whole structure of the mattress 3, which the sheet of foam material along with the rest of the structure forms, that defines the void into which air is pumped to inflate the mattress 3. Because the void is defined by the structure of the mattress 3 the mattress 3 is an inflatable object.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
